THE LOOSE CANNON 2026

STORY
Sometimes you need a Loose Cannon just to mix things up; someone ready to take a few audacious risks that just can't be calculated, embracing the unexpected without permission or plan. Rewards often follow risks and so it is here; our Loose Cannon Fiano is all rewards.

WINEMAKER'S NOTES
Fiano is originally a Southern Italian grape and takes its name from the grape variety the Romans called Vitis apiana – vine beloved of bees. It's more than a bit beloved here in McLaren Vale, seeming to straddle flavour territory somewhere between Pinot Gris and Chardonnay – often even the best of both.

BOUQUET AND PALATE
An idyllic meadow of florals fresh with dew and humming with scents of spring. Honeysuckle, lemon blossom, straw, and thyme. Vanilla pod. Savoury citrus; bergamot, lemon grass, and kaffir lime. Jonquils. Bay notes. Taut and crisp. Succulent citrus swaggers sun dazed throughout. A patient texture permeates with a grip that gives shape and slip to the fruit.

VARIETAL
Fiano

COLOUR
Green faceted brilliant straw

Now through two years.

FOOD MATCH
Keep it fresh and light; the crisp pastry of an Italian torta salata with artichokes and potato is a perfect partner for a Loose Cannon.
